Washout carnival rakes in £25,000

MONEY rolled in at this year's carnival despite the pouring rain causing many of the events to be cancelled

WEYMOUTH Carnival organisers are inviting local charities, community groups and good cause to apply for money raised at the event.

Carnival chairman Ryan Hope said: "The carnival made a profit of over £25,000 and now we want to distribute around £15,000. The remaining money will be held back to give financial backing to our application for booking air displays such as the Red Arrows for next year's carnival.

"The committee and I are very pleased with the amount raised at this year's event given that it was one of the wettest in carnivals in history.

"It makes the hard work and effort put in by the committee and supporters really worthwhile when we're able to hand out money like this.

"Takings on the day were drastically down by around 50 per cent due to the weather conditions, but luckily we didn't have to pay for the cancellation of the Red Arrows and Battle of Britain Memorial Flight. Continued scrutinising and budget control meant we knew that we had more than broken even prior to the day.

"It was agreed by the committee that carnival would look favourably at supporting groups which had supported and participated in the event over the last two years as last year no money was handed out to supporting groups when it only made a profit of £149."

Garry French who became a trustee of Weymouth Carnival and Events Club this year, said they now wanted to reach out to groups to apply for the money.

He added: "The committee look forward to handing out the cash now. We want groups to apply to us and hope that more of the charities and groups that benefit from the money raised will support us next year so that we continue to grow carnival."

"Although we have agreed to look favourably on groups which supported or took part in the event we understand not everyone who needs this money physically or mentally was able to help with carnival so that's why the application is open to all."

Deputy chairman Lee Armstrong, who was also the procession manger, said: "Due to the wet weather the certificates and shields weren't handed out to the procession entries so we will also be handing them out at the beneficiaries night. The night is set to be a celebration of this year's carnival."

Applications are available online at www.weymouthcarnival.co.uk. The deadline for applications is October 20th.

All successful applicants will be informed by October 26th and cheques will be presented at the Weymouth Carnival beneficiary night on October 30th.

Lions prepare for Motocross extravaganza

A STUNT motorcycle team will join hundreds of riders as they take over Weymouth beach this weekend for the annual Motocross event.

More than 200 riders will be racing on the beach on Sunday with practice sessions on Saturday – along with the stunt riders.

Over the years the event, organised by Weymouth Lions and the Purbeck Motocross Club, has raised around £60,000 for various charities.

The event takes place this Saturday, October 10th.

Answered locally in confidence

LINDEN Holmes is 24-years-old and has lived in Eype, Bridport, all his life. He attended Symondsbury Primary School and The Sir John Colfox Academy before embarking on a sales course alongside a job at Dansel Gallery in Abbotsbury. He currently works at Motorwell Mitsubishi and Fiat and is a member of Bridport Round Table.

● COULD you tell us a bit about yourself?

I HAVE been very lucky to have lived in the wonderful village of Eype all my life, a very close community all helping each other.

After finishing Sixth Form, I went onto further education in business management and sales training alongside working in Dansel Gallery, Abbotsbury selling high-class wooden items.

After a number of years of education and work I briefly worked for a local taxi company and a film driver for a local Blockbuster.

I was then lucky enough to get my dream job working with the fantastic people at Motorwell Mitsubishi and Fiat in Bridport in March 2014.

This gave me the opportunity to use all of the sales and business training I had learnt and apply it to my favourite thing of all... cars!

● WHAT encouraged you to join Bridport Round Table?

I WANTED to give back to the community, which had given me so much so I joined in 2013. It is a fantastic group of people, hellbent in making the town a better place and helping people.

We are responsible for the major events in the town, including the fireworks at Bridport Leisure Centre, the Boxing Day swim at West Bay, the Beer Festival at Asker Meadows, The Eggardon Kite Festival and School Disco.

● WHAT is your favourite round table event?

MY FAVOURITE would have to be the annual Beer Festival in June as it brings everybody from the community together. It is a great opportunity to catch up with old friends and have a good time.

● WHAT is the next round table event?

THE School Disco is taking place this Saturday with a new venue at the Electric Palace. Tickets are on sale now at Instant Redress, Frosts and Toymaster for only £10. It is going to be a great night and starts at 8pm with music from the 70s, 80s and 90s. (For more information visit Bridport Round Table's Facebook page).

● WHAT do you like to do in your spare time?

In my spare time I like to spend it with friends at the New Inn in Eype with great drinks and great food.

Up to 98 jobs saved at engineering firm

THE future is looking brighter for almost a hundred local families after the sale of a Weymouth engineering business.

FGP Precision Engineering, based at the Granby industrial estate, was put into administration last month and staff laid off after what was described as short-term cashflow problems. Around 25 people were made redundant at the time.

The company was founded in 1970 as Finegrind Products.

With the doors to the business closed an accountancy firm were called in and the company went into receivership in early September.

But now FGP Systems Limited has bought the business, saving jobs.

"The sale preserves 98 jobs, saves a historic brand in the aerospace components industry and provides a solid financial footing on which the business can be taken forward," said Richard Hawes from Deloitte, one of the two official administrators.

The change in ownership has resulted in new senior managers being brought into the company with Ian Watkins, the new managing director; Nigel Manning as operations director and Nigel Pitman as sales director.

Council to debate flood prevention plans

LONG term plans examining how best to protect Weymouth from flooding will be considered by Weymouth & Portland Borough Council.

The plans, which examine how best to protect the town centre, harbour area and the Esplanade from sea and river flooding until 2094, will be considered by the Policy Development Committee on October 12th.

The Weymouth Town Centre and Harbour Defence Policy, which includes plans for a tidal barrier, new harbour walls and improvements to the Esplanade's sea defences, looks set to cost around £106 million over the next 80 years.

Councillors will examine how this long term plan could be funded. Currently more than £50 million is likely to be available from various sources including central Government (DEFRA), the Environment Agency, the Dorset Local Economic Partnership, developer contributions and the borough council.

Further funding is also likely to be available from other sources including Dorset County Council.

Councillor Ian Roebuck, Environment and Sustainability Briefholder at Weymouth & Portland Borough Council, said: "It is clear we must find the right solution to help protect our wonderful town as much as we can from the risk of flooding. I am also mindful that we must try to develop a scheme which enhances the appearance of our attractive seafront and harbour."

Neil Watson, Environment Agency Wessex Coastal Engineer, said: "We are pleased to be working in partnership to prepare for the future and reduce the risk of flooding in Weymouth. The Weymouth Town Centre and Harbour Defence Policy has potential to bring long term flood protection and act as a catalyst to sustain the economy and well-being of the residents of this historic town."

It is likely that work on the harbour walls would be carried out first, followed by improvements to the Esplanade.

Any recommendations made by the Policy Development Committee will be considered by the borough council's Management Committee.

Man exposes himself to teenage girls

DETECTIVES investigating two reported exposures in Weymouth are appealing for witnesses and anyone with information to come forward – with one man being arrested.

The incidents occurred between 1.15pm and 1.30pm on Sunday, September 27th in Abbotsbury Road.

In the first incident a man allegedly exposed himself to a local woman in her 20s.

During the second incident, the same man allegedly exposed himself to two teenage girls.

In both incidents, the victims reported that the man was in a silver-coloured car.

Detective Constable Declan Cum-

ings, of Weymouth CID, said: "I am appealing to anyone with information about these reported incidents to please come forward."

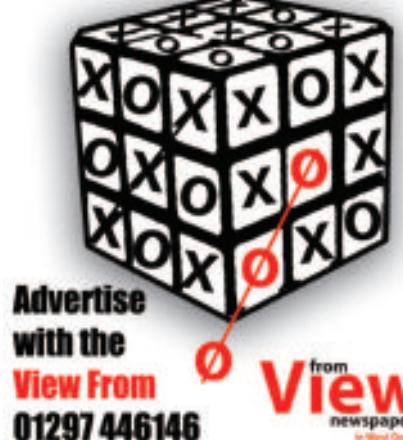

"I am also keen to hear from anyone who has seen a man acting suspiciously in the Abbotsbury Road area."

"All calls will be treated in strict confidence."

A 32-year-old old man from Weymouth has been arrested on suspicion of indecent exposure and has been released on police bailing until the beginning of November pending further enquiries.

Witnesses and anyone with information should call Dorset Police in confidence on 101 quoting incident number 27:219.

North Quay up for sale

WEYMOUTH and Portland Borough Council is asking for offers for its North Quay offices site.

The prominent site on Weymouth Harbour is a prime development opportunity, and is being offered for sale freehold. To assist with the sale the Council has obtained agreement for the granting of outline planning consent to demolish the offices and replace it with a mixed use development of 72 homes and 216 sq m of commercial space.

Councillor Ian Bruce, Weymouth & Portland Borough Council's Chairman of Management Committee said: "We would like to hear from developers who are interested in the site and we look forward to seeing what proposals are submitted to our Selling agents."

"Selling the site and moving to smaller, cheaper-to-run offices in the town centre will reduce council running costs and provide a significant capital sum."

Once bids have been made, the options will be reviewed and reported to the borough council's Management Committee on 6 December.

As part of the Borough Council's project to sell North Quay and relocate to smaller, cheaper-to-run offices in the town centre, the public will benefit from an extra 20 parking spaces at North Quay until redevelopment begins.

With more staff working across sites in Weymouth and Dorchester the need for spaces in the North Quay car park has reduced. This means the Borough Council are able to offer these extra spaces to the public from October 1st until developers take over the site.

Redevelopment of the North Quay site is one of the first stages of the Council's town centre master plan.

Crime commissioner honours young people

LOCAL youngsters were among the winners of the first Dorset Police and Crime Commissioner awards for young people.

Martyn Underhill and Assistant Chief Constable James Vaughan paid tribute to a number of young people who had been nominated for their contribution to making Dorset a safer place to live at a recent awards ceremony.

Five individuals and six groups were recognised from across Dorset for efforts in their communities.

Paying tribute to the young people Mr Underhill said: "It was a wonderful evening, which left me feeling humbled to see so many young people contributing to their communities, putting others first and making Dorset a safer place to live, - an amazing achievement given their ages."

Also in attendance was the Lord Lieutenant, Angus Campbell who presented the Individual Youth Award to Crystal-Lily Mills who spoke at the No Excuse for Abuse Domestic Violence Conference in November 2014.

Despite being only 16-years-old, Crystal volunteered to address an audience of more than 200 professionals at the conference, and relate her very personal experience of being a child affected by domestic abuse. She also carries out voluntary work, particularly in the field of equality.

The Group Award was presented by Dorset's High Sheriff, Jennifer Coombs and was won by Budmouth School for their work around student safety. Budmouth Organisation for Student Safety, BOSS provides new students with escorts around the large school campus, have run a conference in relation to anti bullying and have raised awareness of e-safety launching their own website to highlight these issues.

The Lord Lieutenant also paid tribute to all the young people present, "too often people have a negative view of young people and don't recognise them for the good work they do or for what they achieve. Hopefully these will become annual awards giving young people the recognition they deserve."

Crystal was nominated by Kate Stewart, and Angie Boast. She is one of the Dorset Members of the UK Youth Parliament, and a long serving member of the Dorset Youth Council DYCE. She has taken part in the Dorset PCC Take It Over Day, and contributed with others to the production of the Young People's Police and Crime Plan, and the 2014, My Life My Choice Youth Conference.

At college, she is the Student Equality and Diversity Rep, and Anti-Bullying Ambassador. Crystal has also still found time to complete her National Citizens Award, and to speak at the Tolpuddle Festival on the topic of work and low pay.

The Budmouth School received its award for the way it helps almost 300 new pupils each year integrate into the school through its BOSS scheme where members escort the new pupils to and from lessons around the schools large campus, and socialise with them.

BOSS student leaders are frequently referred to when year 7 students are asked to reflect on their transition to the school. Anti-bullying is the cornerstone of BOSS, and in January 214 they hosted a Diana Award Anti Bullying Conference for more than 100 students from six schools in Dorset, Devon, Hampshire and Wiltshire.

Table tennis tournament held for Weldmar Hospice

THE Weymouth and District Table Tennis League held a special memorial tournament at Wyke Regis Sports Club in aid of Weldmar Hospicecare, who cared for Andy Mitchell earlier in the year.

All the competitors were asked to play with a penhold grip (Chinese style) for the competition - as this was the way that Andy Mitchell had played.

Twelve players took part in the tournament - which included Andy's twin sons, Paul and Steven.

Paul lost in an exciting final to Eddie Chapman, who was then presented with the winner's trophy by Andy's widow, Rita Mitchell.

The Weymouth and District Table Tennis League raised £260 for Weldmar Hospicecare during the event - which they now plan to hold annually.

Diane Bentley, Weldmar's

Community Fundraiser for south Dorset, said: "Everyone at Weldmar would like to say a big thank you to all the Weymouth and District Table Tennis League - especially Andy's family who paid tribute to him in such a special way.

"We rely so much on our local community to help us fund our services for our patients across Dorset, and would not be able to offer our services for free without their support."

Enjoy a FEAST this winter

FOODIES will be able to enjoy set-price meals at Weymouth restaurants from this week until mid-November.

Over 40 participating restaurants, hotels, B&Bs, cafes, bars and grills will be offering the set FEAST menus priced between £5 and £25.

The event, designed to boost trade in the lull between summer and Christmas, is supported by Weymouth BID, and offers a range of cuisine - from burgers and pub grub to fine dining.

Many venues that participated last year have once again signed up to take part in the event, this year sponsored by HIX Academy, Pixie, Roberts Fine Foods and Albert Goodman.

There are also many restaurants taking part for the first time, among them is Giuseppe Vannucci, chef at Al Molo who said: "We are so excited to be involved with Feast Weymouth for the first time. We opened our restaurant just a few months ago and already Weymouth has welcomed us with open arms. We have yet to experience an autumn/winter in Weymouth, so events like this are really important".

The FEAST Weymouth promotion will work with each participating venue providing a set-menu or offer within the price ranges of £5, £10, £15, £20 or £25 for customers to dine at their establishment from the first week in October until November 13th.

Each venue will have their own terms and conditions so diners are encouraged to call ahead and book. Menus for each participating venue will be displayed on the We Are Weymouth UK website.

Busy season for Portland port

MORE than 20 cruise ships have visited Portland Port this season - bringing 26,500 passengers to Dorset.

The latest was the Norwegian Star which brought almost ten per cent of the season's total.

"We are now looking to build on this success and are already planning for 2017," said Mr McQuade.

Plans for the future include a berth extension to allow ships of more than 330m to visit.

Students become apprentices

THREE full time Weymouth College students have just received apprenticeships from Heatic after studying welding at Weymouth College.

Poole-based Heatic is a leading supplier of compact heat exchangers since 1985 and is part of Meggit, the international aerospace, defence and electronics group.

Aaron McGrath, (pictured left), has spent the last two years designing and improving the Level 2 and 3 welding curriculum currently available at Weymouth College.

Four Weymouth College students were short listed to a final 12 for the Heatic apprenticeships available. Aaron McGrath was delighted that all three were awarded to Weymouth College learners.

Story of military wives finally told

DORCHESTER'S Keep Military Museum played host to the launch of the new book by author Penny Legg.

"Military Wives From The First World War to Afghanistan" took Penny two years to write and will raise funds of SSAFA – the Soldiers, Sailors, Airmen and Families Association.

The book is an anthology of stories about the lives of military wives from 1914 until the present day – a story which has seldom been told.

"My husband retained many naval associations after leaving the navy and I went with him to functions where I listened to the men re-living old times. The journalist in me knew that the stories and anecdotes coming out round the table would make a great book and so 'Under the Queen's Colours' came out in 2012, as a commemorative title for HM The Queen's diamond jubilee. As soon as it was published, I was asked to write a sequel looking at the other side of the coin, at the military wife.

"As a former military spouse myself, I know what being the 'wife of' is all about. I was the nameless, faceless, voiceless person behind my husband's Royal Navy uniform, as was my grandmother before me. I decided to start the book in the First World War, when many women, including my three maiden great-aunts, were fiancées but never wives. I wanted to show women's experiences of the century from the 'war to end all wars' to the withdrawal of troops from Afghanistan. Had they changed? If so, how had they? I hope that, in an age where military wives are finally able to step out of their husband's shadow and show they have a voice as well as a face, readers will gain a greater understanding of the lives of these ordinary, unflappable, flexible and, above all, courageous women, the Military Wives."

During the evening at the Keep Military Museum, Curator Chris Copson toured guests around the three story building.

He said: "It was an excellent evening. Penny gave a talk on the women featured in her book, including one of our guests – the amazing Margerita Woosnam.

"Mrs Woosnam, who is now 95, met her husband when he came to blow up the U-Boat pens at Heligoland in 1945. As a Submariner, he'd never blown up anything before, but fortunately survived the experience."

Copies of the book can be ordered via the Keep Museum on 01305-264066.

Rowers take part in race up the Thames

PORTLAND Gig Rowing Club recently participated in the Great London River Race.

Eight members travelled to London together with their Cornish gig, Pulpit Rock, to row in London's River Marathon.

The race from Millwall Docks to Ham, Richmond attracted crews from all over the world, some serious athletes and some doing it for fun or just to take part in a variety of rowing vessels. This year's event attracted 330 crews.

The Portland crew of four men and four women took it in turns to row so everyone had the experience of rowing on the Thames.

The crew competed against 42 other Cornish gigs and a number of larger boats in their category. To give all crews a chance, entrants are given a handicap according to the calculated potential performance of their type of boat. Slowest boats start first, fastest last and each boat is individually timed.

Cornish Gigs being classed as one of the fastest type of boat started an hour after the first boats had commenced the race. Unfortunately for the dragon boat teams conditions on the day prevented them from taking part but 302 boats still made a very colourful spectacle as they headed along the river.

The course of 21.6 miles took rowers past many of London's famous landmarks and passed under 28 bridges before reaching the finish line at Ham, Richmond.

Portland's crew completed the course

THE Portland crew before the race

in two hours 47 minutes placing them 87th out of 302 participating boats, an amazing achievement for the club.

Anyone who would like to find out more about gig rowing should contact the club at portlandgigrowingclub@yahoo.co.uk or visit www.portlandgigrowingclub.co.uk.

Advertiser's announcement

Jordan's Jewellers

EVER wondered how much it would cost to replace your wedding or engagement rings should they be lost or stolen? These days it can be all too easy to assume that those items we may take for granted, will be automatically covered by our house insurance if the unthinkable were to happen. Therefore, making sure that your prized possessions are insured for the correct value will give you and your family peace of mind if it does.

Why do I need a valuation?

In the event of loss, it will establish how much your jewellery was worth, so it will make your insurance claim much easier. A correctly written valuation will help you establish your ownership of a piece, as it will be much more detailed than a shop receipt. All too often, stolen property is recovered, but the owners are unable to prove it was theirs, so the property cannot be returned to them. Even if your insurance company does not require a valuation, you may still desire one for your own peace of mind.

How often should I get jewellery valued?

The value of gold, diamonds and gemstones are affected by many factors including supply and demand as well as inflation, so after a time valuations will need to be updated, otherwise, the insurance value may not cover the full cost of a replacement. It is always worth checking with your insurance company what the recommended timescale is, to ensure your valuations are kept up-to-date. Two to three years between valuations is usual. It is also advisable to have your jewellery cleaned at least once a year and to get it checked for loose gemstones. This will also give you a chance to discuss with your jeweller if a new valuation is needed.

What do I need to give the valuer?

The valuer will need to see any documentation which came with the item. This may include the original receipt, any earlier valuations, certificates for diamonds etc. Withholding information could render the valuation useless, and would give problems in the event of a claim. The valuer will need to keep the jewellery while they are valuing it.

What will I get?

A written document which accurately describes each item, plus 1 or 2 photographs of each piece. Also details of the jewellery may be added to your jewellers database, which can be re-issued to you and/or the police, in the unfortunate event that items are lost or stolen, or if your stolen property is recovered.

What will it cost?

Some shops will charge a percentage for the number of items valued, some will quote an exact price when you bring the items in for valuation. Higher prices may be charged if a piece includes diamonds or gemstones, as these may take significantly longer to appraise. Valuations can also be undertaken for probate.

It is easy to have valuable jewellery and watches lying around for years, never wondering what its true worth is until the worst happens.

Jordans Jewellers in Dorchester are hosting a valuation day on Saturday, October 17th between 10am and 4.30pm. Bring your items for a verbal valuation and appraisal, you may be surprised and delighted at how the value has changed since it was purchased.

CHALLENGE ROB

A weekly column throughout October

Trying out everything HEALTH & FITNESS has to offer!

AFTER an indulgent weekend and a stressful day at work on Monday I headed straight to the gym really motivated to see what it was like and to sweat some of the bad stuff out of my body!

My first impressions were really good, I was met by a very friendly Duncan who was going to be doing my induction and putting me through my paces. There was a good mix of people using the gym, who were all clearly trying to achieve different things, which made a refreshing change from the normal assumption that gyms are full of men using weights looking at themselves in the mirror! There was definitely no intimidation factor from that point of view.

Before we got started we chatted through my medical history and discussed my previous injuries, while taking note of my blood pressure and body mass index. We talked about my diet and the sort of food and drink I put into my body on a daily and weekly basis.

Then the assessment started, which for the purpose of this column was different to a normal induction. After Duncan put me through a dynamic warm up, we did a basic fitness test to see where my fitness levels were. The test comprised of press-ups, leg press, slams with a medicine ball, and a ten minute blast on the bike, the results of which I'm sure aren't particularly impressive! However, after the warm down and a shower, I felt really good, if a little wobbly!

I woke up Tuesday morning a little achy in my triceps and hamstrings, which was fully expected, as I haven't really used those muscles in quite a while! By the time I finished work on Tuesday I was raring to go again and Duncan had a programme set out for me focusing on cardio and core work. It was tough, but in the air-conditioned cardio room upstairs I felt good and got through it in about an hour.

I thought that Monday and Tuesday evenings would have been really busy in the gym, but although there were lots of people working out, there was never a queue to use any equipment and there was lots of space, which is a huge positive of them setting a limited membership number.

I was really achy and sore on Wednesday and Thursday so was quite glad I had those as rest days, although I did play golf on Wednesday night which was better than I expected as it loosened me up a bit.

I had another tough cardio session overseen by Duncan on Friday working on intervals and abdominals, but again, although tired, I felt really good afterwards. It feels so good to be exercising regularly and I've found that I'm really not craving unhealthy food like I was last week. I'm not keeping a strict diet but when I'm hungry I now have much more of an urge to reach for a piece of fruit rather than a bag of crisps.

I was up again on Saturday morning and Duncan introduced me to some resistance training. I consider myself particularly scrawny so was a little apprehensive. However, Duncan put me at ease and we concentrated on doing more reps on lower weights. It was very different to the feeling of a CV workout but it still made me sweat and I certainly knew my muscles had been worked. I can't wait to build on this first weeks training next week!

This Tutankhamun exhibition is open!

By Trevor Bevins

trevorbevins@gmail.com

DORCHESTER'S Tutankhamun Exhibition is hoping for a boost in business after the Egyptian government decided to close The Tomb of Tutankhamun in Luxor's famous Valley of the Kings.

The tomb shut this week for restoration, with no scheduled date for reopening. At the same time Tutankhamun's famous funerary mask is being taken off display in the Archaeological Museum in Cairo to undergo restoration work.

Tim Batty from the Dorchester Tutankhamun Exhibition said: "Now is a particularly auspicious time to visit the Tutankhamun Exhibition, in Dorchester. It is the beginning of the traditional archaeological 'season' in Egypt, where 93-years-ago Howard Carter resumed his search for Tutankhamun's tomb."

The discovery of the boy king's tomb was hailed as one of the greatest discoveries of the 20th Century.

Mr Batty says the Dorchester display accurately recreates the discovery, complete with a reconstruction of the moment of break in, the Antechamber filled with golden treasures and also the burial chamber where Howard Carter can be seen raising the golden coffins.

Mr Batty said: "Complete with all the tomb furniture, treasures, and 'smells' of the tomb, the exhibition makes it possible to experience the wonder of discovery and enter the tomb just as Howard Carter did in 1922."

An exact anatomical recreation of Tutankhamun's Mummy is also featured, which took over two years of research and experimentation to recreate, following x-rays and measurements of Tutankhamun's mummy.

The Tutankhamun Exhibition is open every day of the week all year round from 10am to 4pm.

New spa opens at Portland hotel

A NEW spa venture is being launched at the Ocean Hotel & Bar on Portland's Southwell Business Park.

It is being run by international spa consultant and renowned spa therapist Verna Herry who used to run the Ocean Spa at Southwell.

She is now launching La Vie Spa at the hotel, a place she chose because of her history with the site and its unique cliff top position.

The hotel's new owner Nick Doherty wanted to attract more local people and visitors to the 55-room hotel and felt adding a spa was one way of doing this.

La Vie Spa offers three treatment rooms, a nail bar, relaxation area and waiting room and is open to the general public and hotel guests alike.

The spa employs five staff who could soon be joined by what may be the area's first male therapist.

Verna Herry said: "It's nice being back doing what I adore and feel passionate about in a place that I have a lot of fond memories for.

"La Vie Spa gives me the chance to say hello to a lot of old and new friends and get on with assisting my clients to de-stress, revitalise, relax and rejuvenate their body, mind and spirit."

Mr Doherty said: "We were looking to add value to our hotel stay experience. We initially sought help from Verna's consultancy services which in turn lead us on to working with her La Vie Spa brand and we are very proud to be the home of the first of her new spa ventures."

Verna has worked with some of the top names in the spa industry including Ragdale Hall Health Hydro Spa in Leicestershire and the world's largest spa company, Steiner Trans Ocean where she was employed as a senior therapist gaining experience on numerous luxury cruise ships crossing the world's oceans.

Verna is also writing her first book which is a guide to understanding how spas operate and the range of spa treatments available. It will be called Passion-

In this masterclass he will explore the link between narrative and setting, showing how each informs and amplifies the other, how characters and setting are mutually dependent, and how a book's location can be a character in itself.

■ VOLUNTEERS at one of Transition Town Dorchester's apple days

A bumper crop of apples

TWO weekend apple days have been held at the Dorchester Community orchard – the extra day being added because of this year's bumper crop.

Transition Town Dorchester volunteers were out in force at the Railway Orchard to celebrate Apple Day, the annual event to enjoy the apples produced by their three community orchards.

Apple Day completes the circle, begun with the Wassailing celebration at the beginning of the year when the ceremony banishes evil spirits from the orchards and wish fruitfulness on their trees.

Two new apple presses were brought into use this year, one of which was made specially for the group by a member's uncle.

Members set up their own production line with people chopping the apples, some feeding them into the shredder, others turning the wheels to press out the juice, while others took the juice and poured it into bottles. Each pressing was different – some of it had a real tang, some was sweet and heavy. Everyone took home several bottles of juice – some to drink it immediately, some to pasteurise it, since it goes off very quickly, and some even to try out cider making.

The group was also selling their honey at the orchard having had a successful season with their bees and have recently harvested over 100 jars of honey from their ten hives. These can be bought in Down to Earth on Trinity Street.

Everyone is welcome to come and join the community orchard or community farm – there are regular workdays at the weekends. Email info@transitiontowndorchester.org for further information.

Poppy Appeal volunteers needed in Dorchester

VOLUNTEERS are needed to help with this year's Poppy Appeal in and around Dorchester.

New home transforms young man's life

A YOUNG autistic man who spent the first 19 years of his life in residential care is celebrating the first anniversary of living independently.

Lee Jones, who has high functioning autism and attachment disorder, successfully made the transition to supported living run by Regard, at Park House in Weymouth town centre.

The 20-year-old transport enthusiast, transferred from Purbeck View School in Dorset where he received round the clock residential care.

Park House service manager Elisa Willcox said: "The placement has been a huge success and Lee has adapted to adult services really well.

"Before he came he was very underweight and would only eat a particular brand of sausages, and potato crisps. To our joy Lee's food repertoire has increased considerably and it's a pleasure to see him looking so well.

"He is now involved in selecting what to buy and prepare for evening meals with his fellow housemates."

Lee is fascinated by transport and has dedicated his room in the famous red, white and green livery of UK transport giants Eddie Stobart.

Since moving to Park House Lee has gone on his first-ever holiday, visiting the National Railway Museum in York with a support worker. He has also attended local steam fairs and the Wessex Truck Show in Yeovil.

Added Elisa: "Lee was very anxious being among people when he arrived at Park House but now gets fully involved when the group join together to prepare an evening meal and supports other service users with reading.

"He also attends a nearby friendship group where there are regular discos and trips out and enjoys visiting local cafes and the town library."

For two days a week Lee attends a nearby community farm where he helps care for the livestock and also drives the tractor and cuts the grass.

Lee now has his own bank account and manages funds with support from his key worker and has a provisional driving licence.

He is also keen on DIY and has his own toolbox. In the future he may look at going to college and eventually look for a job on a farm.

Park House is a specialist supported living service for young people, aged 18-30, with learning disabilities and/or autism in transition from residential college, foster care or the family home.

The focus of service is to promote independence and support young people to access further education, employment, social and recreational activities.

The service occupies a large semi-detached house within walking distance of the seafront and Weymouth town centre with seven bedrooms, plus communal areas and large garden.

Staff are available 24 hours a day, including a sleep-in night staff member.

There is currently a vacancy at the service, a first floor room with en-suite available. Families and external professionals can learn more by calling a referrals hotline on 0800 840 0313.

The Regard Group, which runs Park House, has recently attained the Gold Standard at Investors in People, one of only four organisations in the sector to achieve the standard.

Swim scheme launched for older people

OSPREY Leisure Centre is launching a new scheme to get inactive, older people, swimming.

The Portland sports centre has won funding to support the scheme – one of only three in the UK to do so.

Sport England has teamed up with Sporta, whose members manage 40 per cent of community sports, leisure and culture facilities in the UK, to allocate £430,889 of National Lottery money to local projects.

Under the Portland scheme participants can have a one-to-one lesson with a qualified teacher and, if 10 swim sessions are bought every three months, the sessions will be offered at half price.

Nigel Williams General Manager of Osprey Leisure Centre said: "Any inactive person is able to have private individual lessons for the price of a single swim and to follow have sessions at only £2.15 per swim forever as long as they swim 10 times every three months. A swimming buddy can also swim at the same time free of any charge. This scheme which can happen when the pool is closed to the public therefore goes a long way to reducing or eliminating barriers which may have stopped people swimming in the past."

Further details about the scheme call 01305 824378.

Wear it Pink

Every year, wear it pink raises around £2 million during Breast Cancer Awareness Month, by asking people to wear something pink and donate whatever they can. Since the very first wear it pink event in 2002, we've raised over £27 million thanks to the generosity of many thousands of people taking part in approximately 7,093* schools, 39,964* workplaces and 8,256* homes and social venues.

We use the money you raise to fund world-class research, by the brightest scientific minds, across the UK and Ireland. We actively encourage collaboration and knowledge sharing, and help our scientists and clinicians kick-start innovation. Together, they're working to discover how to prevent breast cancer, how to detect it earlier and how to treat it effectively at every stage so we can stop the disease taking lives.

wear it pink

for Breast Cancer Campaign - 23rd October 2015 - wearitpink.org

Breast Awareness

BREAST cancer is the most common cancer in the UK. Both women and men can be affected by it, so it's important to be breast aware. Being breast aware is part of caring for your body. It means getting to know how your breasts look and feel so you know what is normal for you.

You can then feel more confident about noticing any unusual changes and reporting it to your GP (local doctor).

We encourage early detection of breast cancer as the sooner breast cancer is diagnosed the more effective treatment may be.

wearing a splash of pink

THIS October make a change and show your support for Breast Cancer Awareness Month by wearing a splash of pink.

We know that small changes can influence big outcomes and our research team are proving exactly that. We're sharing the results of our Diet & Lifestyle study with research scientists around the world, who, like us, are committed to bringing forward the day when collectively we can say we've achieved our goal, a future free from breast cancer.

Wearing a splash of pink shows others that you care about the 130 women who receive a breast cancer diagnosis every day, and that in the last 10 years, incidence rates have risen by 7%. You care that the lifetime risk of a woman being diagnosed with breast cancer is 1 in 8.

Wearing a splash of pink shows others that you understand that early detection is critical. Over 90% of women diagnosed with breast cancer at the earliest stage survive their disease for at least 5 years. And you understand that, thanks to research, 2 out of 3 women with breast cancer are now surviving their disease beyond 20 Years.

You can make a change. By joining our campaign and giving just £3 a month, you will be supporting world class research taking place here in the UK focussed on improving detection and increasing survival after breast cancer diagnosis.

Police get baking for childhood cancer awareness cake challenge

STAFF at Dorset Police Headquarters have been raising money for Childhood Cancer Awareness Month.

The police team from Dorchester showed off their baking skills as they took part in the Power of Cake - whipping up tasty treats to sell to work mates to raise funds in support of Childhood Cancer Awareness Month for CLIC Sargent, the UK's leading cancer charity for children and young people, and their families.

They aimed to raise £170, the amount which CLIC Sargent gives to families after a child is diagnosed with cancer, to stop unexpected costs like parking and petrol becoming a problem.

Inspector Les Fry said: "We have a very enthusiastic team in business change, when I asked if they would help me with a cake bake and sale for CLIC Sargent all those who could, were very keen to support what is a very worthwhile cause.

"Childhood Cancer Awareness Month is a fantastic opportunity to support children with cancer, and their families."

Joy Morley, CLIC Sargent fundraising manager said: "I was so pleased to hear that Inspector Les Fry wanted to take part in the £170 challenge for Childhood Cancer Awareness Month. It feels fantastic to have the support of the local police force.

"Money may seem unimportant when a child is diagnosed with cancer, but families caring for a child with cancer often find that their costs go up and their income goes down. So every £170 raised this September could help one more family move forward together.

"Childhood Cancer Awareness Month is a chance to raise awareness of the impact of childhood cancer, and of CLIC Sargent's work supporting young cancer patients and their families."

If you or your school, group or workplace would like to take on a CLIC Sargent challenge you can find out more at www.clicsargent.org.uk or call 0845 1212 492.

The evening workshops runs from 6.30pm-8.30pm, is free, but places are limited must be booked in advance on 01305 262538.

NEWS in brief ...

■ CUTS of up to 30 per cent could be on the way for some community groups who receive cash help from West Dorset District Council.

Faced with cuts in its grant from the Conservative Government the Tory-controlled district council is now planning to chop funding from groups who offer help in the community.

It has now started a public consultation which will continue until mid-November before making any changes.

The authority hopes to save around £80,000 a year by cutting back help to community groups – around ten per cent of its overall annual budgets for other organisations.

The proposals vary from a five per cent cut to local museums to 20 per cent for arts centres in Dorchester, Bridport and Sherborne.

Said leader of West Dorset District Council, Councillor Anthony Alford: "The public consultation will provide us with a broad range of views that will be carefully considered before making any final decisions.

"The key outcome is that we direct funding where it will have the most impact to meet the needs of our communities."

The consultation will close on Thursday, November 12th with a final decision made by councillors in early 2016 for the 2016-17 financial year.

■ A NEW "code club" for youngsters interested in writing computer code programmes has started in Weymouth and Dorchester libraries.

The clubs are part of a nationwide network run by volunteers after school for girls and boys aged nine to 11. The local clubs operate on Thursdays, from 4.30pm for an hour at Weymouth Library and from 4.15pm for an hour at Dorchester.

Those who attend will be taught how to create animations, games and learn to code using Scratch – with full tuition available for free.

Hospital to celebrate 175 years at open day

By Trevor Bevins

trevorbevins@gmail.com

DORSET County Hospital is opening its doors for the annual public open day this Saturday, October 10th from 2pm until 5pm.

This year's tours will enable visitors to have unprecedented access to areas not usually open to the public, including pharmacy, the laboratories, operating theatres, sterile services and radiology.

With the hospital celebrating its 175th birthday this year, there will be the chance to learn more about the hospital's history, and to take part in the launch of a new interactive Treves Trail as part of the "175 Years of Dorset Healthcare" project.

Sir Frederick Treves, a Dorchester man, was a Royal Surgeon and also famous for his treatment of "the elephant man" Joseph Merrick.

The hospital has teamed up with colleagues in the local ambulance and fire services which will bring their emergency vehicles to the event.

As well as the usual nurse-led health checks, the dermatology team will be offering skin and mole checks this year and the diabetes team will be on hand offering health checks and advice.

The popular Teddy Bear Clinic will also be back so young visitors can bring along their favourite cuddly toy to have their heart listened to, or for them to receive a bandage.

There will be a range of displays in Damers Restaurant from departments around the trust, including research and development, ICT, DCH Charity, PALS and trust membership. The recruitment and volunteering teams will also be there to discuss opportunities to join the staff at the hospital.

The Friends of DCH will be showcasing their trolley service, and will have their shop open in North Wing, and Damers Restaurant will be offering a wide range of refreshments and home-made cakes.

There will be the chance to take part in our CPR challenge and to view the state of the art equipment in the clinical simulation suite, as well as to hear an update on the trust's strategic direction from Chief Executive Patricia Miller.

Visitors are being advised to go to the Damers Restaurant on arrival to collect a programme and tour tickets, where volunteers will be happy to help you make the most of your visit.

Chief Executive Patricia Miller said: "This is a chance for us to showcase the wonderful work that goes on at the hospital, often behind the scenes. Visitors can be sure of gaining a fascinating insight into the many different departments and services within the hospital.

"Staff have put a lot of work into organising this afternoon and I hope as many people as possible will make the most of this opportunity to find out more about how their local hospital operates."

■ THE Teddy Bear Clinic at Dorset County Hospital's annual open day always proves popular with young visitors

Road accidents on the rise

DEATHS and serious injuries on Dorset's roads are increasing by eight per cent year on year – with more than one crash which results in a fatality, or serious injury, every day.

Head of the Dorset police traffic unit, Inspector Matt Butler, said most of the accidents could have been avoided.

"Every fatal road traffic collision sees at least one family devastated. Families of offending drivers are also affected, particularly if the driver is sent to prison. Many victims of collisions suffer life-changing injuries."

He says that the common mistakes include driving too close, or too fast, taking unnecessary risks, driving while using a phone or being distracted in other ways, failing to look properly at junctions and driving while under the influence of drink or drugs.

Alcohol plays a part in around 25 per cent of road deaths.

Nineteen people were killed on Dorset roads in 2014 compared with 28 the year before - 371 were seriously injured, compared to 334 in 2013.

Weymouth Matters

A personal View by HARRY WALTON

Countdown begins

WELL, here we go. The countdown to Christmas is already on with barely eleven weeks to go until the festering season is with us.

Such an announcement probably isn't a bombshell to you since the town is already plastered with Christmas card stands, Christmas menu leaflets and the usual exhortations to book now before everything is sold out.

Fortunately the only two Christmassy things to impinge on my life so far have been ten minutes of glorious birdsong from a little robin as I clipped back a shrub and the discovery of an inch-high holly tree growing at the back of one of our flower borders.

Sadly that pleasure didn't last long and within 24 hours I had been urged to buy Christmas present name stickers, some cards and even some Christmas raffle tickets.

If it's like this now in early October then how frenetic is it going to be when we reach December, still with another 24 days of shopping panic to go?! God help us all. I'll keep you posted on any Yuletide aberrations I come across.

Is out of town too far for footie fans?

ANOTHER chapter in the saga of Weymouth Football Club is about to kick off with ideas being explored which could build a 5,000-seat stadium next to the park and ride at Mount Pleasant.

Now WFC fans know only too well that the club is no stranger to controversy, but some might still feel that allowing developers to build scores of homes on the Wessex Stadium site at Southill so the club can get a new stadium is a good idea.

Whether that new stadium might be at Mount Pleasant remains to be seen, but I have been contacted by and talked to a lot of club fans and they point to the good old days when Weymouth played their football at an in-town ground long since demolished to make way for Asda supermarket.

Their concerns are that Weymouth's crowd strength was playing at the heart of its community where people could easily walk to the ground to watch their football.

The move out to the Wessex meant many fans had to drive or just didn't bother to attend matches any more seeing crowd figures drop because of the inconvenience of getting to a ground which was no longer at the heart of its fan base.

These proposals to vacate the Wessex actually didn't seem to worry that many fans but they were disappointed at the prospect – if it all goes ahead – of yet another ground proposal which will force them to drive or walk distances to watch their football.

And their fears are not isolated concerns because I've just come back from a holiday break in York where my guesthouse was barely 50 metres from York City's ground.

I met a lot of York City fans while I was up there and they weren't happy with a proposed move away from Bootham Crescent to a new ground further out, almost a mirror image of Weymouth's move from the town centre out to the Wessex.

Their fears were identical to Weymouth fans', namely that the move would hit York's crowd numbers and support because it moved their ground to a new home which was harder to get to for fans.

The very fact that Weymouth's possible new ground is next to a park and ride site shows it's a fair way out of town, too far to really walk because buses are provided so drivers can be ferried in to the town centre after they've parked their cars.

It is all still very early days yet, but one thing is worth considering. There isn't much point having a shiny new stadium if getting there is so awkward that the team ends up playing in front of seating which is largely empty.

Growing old disgracefully

THIS week's Growing Old Disgracefully spot highlights how pensioners are making generous donations....by giving their bank cards to their local post offices.

When the Government moved away from the traditional pension book approach for pensions and instead asked OAPs to use a card to get their money it posed something of a problem for many pensioners who were unfamiliar with having an account or a card.

What seems to be happening now according to a number of pensioners who have mentioned this to me is that their unfamiliarity with card use often sees them use it, take the money it produces from a hole-in-the-wall machine but walk off forgetting to take their card with them.

In some cases this has produced astonishing results with post offices getting so many forgotten cards handed in that they keep them in a little box.

One pensioner who had forgotten their card told me they went to ask if it had been handed in and staff got a box, emptied the contents out and then shuffled through them until they found the card belonging to the pensioner. There were that many.

But what about all the other cards? This sort of thing must be happening on a regular basis for that amount of cards to build up so much in one place.

So take care out there. You've worked all your life to be entitled to this pension and you don't want to put your money at risk with criminals by forgetting to collect your card as well as your cash.

WARM, GLOWING & BERRY WELCOMING

By Sam Wylie-Harris, Press Association

WITH the leaves turning and the country-side ablaze with fiery reds, burnt oranges and straw yellows, there couldn't be a better time to spice up your space and introduce some warm accents and comfy chairs to 'fall' into.

Even a short ramble in the early autumn sunshine can inspire a shift in style. Cue a gorgeous array of furniture in rich hues and modern metallics, accented with splashes of rust and berries to capture the allure of the season's richly-coloured foliage.

And with Dulux announcing Cherished Gold as the 2016 Colour of the Year, there couldn't be a better time to reflect that golden glow...

DON'T BE A WALLFLOWER

"Light and airy, adding gold to your hallway in the colder months creates a glowing halo that welcomes guests," says Paula Taylor, colour and trend specialist at Graham & Brown. "Our Quill Gold wallpaper looks fabulous in this part of the home in particular. The large-scale pattern elongates even the smallest of spaces, making it perfect for any sized home."

For an extra hint of luxury, pair Quill's beautiful swaying leaf print with golden accents on furnishings and subtle elements, such as metallic light fittings. You can also offset this metallic wallpaper with autumnal shades like rich browns.

Balancing light and shade will set the tone for when the clocks change, and you're inviting friends and family in out of the darkness.

Quill Gold Wallpaper, £20 per roll (www.grahambrown.com)

METAL ELEMENTS

Inspired by modern metallics, the new tableware range from Oliver Bonas contrasts soft textures with splashes of bold colour and metallic finishes, to bring a touch of rough luxe to table settings.

Pair this with a dresser or larder stacked with copper cookware, earthenware and wooden chopping boards to add texture, and not only will it revamp your kitchen or dining area, but double up as a storage unit.

▲ Copper Twist Candlestick, 40, Mixed Metallic Tableware from 10 to 45, all available from Oliverbonas.com.

BEDROOM BLISS

"For an elegant and serene bedroom, try a palette of champagne, mink and taupe. Add layers of sumptuous bed linen, quilted and silk throws to create an inviting feel, while adding warmth, colour and texture," says Kerry Nicholls, interior decor buyer at John Lewis.

"Reflect the autumnal hues of the countryside with parquet flooring, and lay a warm, woody-toned rug for a little extra luxury and underfoot comfort."

After all, what could be nicer than stepping onto a throw rug and padding around on a smooth wooden floor? To warm things up, you can always style the room with a velvet chair in a sumptuous colour, invest in a luxury scented candle, or do something as basic as changing the wattage in your light bulbs to create a warm, yellow glow.

▲ Charleston Bedstead, Double, 599, Boutique Hotel Silk Bedspread, Grey, from 175, Cushions upholstered in Hayden Furnishing Fabric, Steel, 35 per metre, Wilfred Tripod Table Lamps, 75 each, and other items from a selection at John Lewis.

COCOONED IN COMFORT

Turning over a new leaf and making the living room warm and cosy is easier than you think, and doesn't have to happen in one fell swoop.

"Don't be afraid of experimenting with colour. Start by introducing splashes with accessories and textiles that are easily changed if you change your mind," advises John Sims Hilditch, managing director at Neptune.

"For the braver, choose one colour family and stick to it - blues and greys are great together. Our seasonal shades of Fox and Chestnut blend perfectly and look wonderful with the earthy colours of autumn."

Indeed, one hero piece on the coffee table, such as a handcrafted woodland bird, scatter cushions on the sofa in tactile wool fabrics, or a wool throw, in a squash or pumpkin shade, strewn across an armchair, can make all the difference.

Not to mention a sideboard styled with colourful decanters, and set against a wall painted in a rich, russet shade, or a backdrop of floral printed curtains to add warmth and interest.

▲ Photo of Eva Sofa in Fox, from 1,975, Pouffe upholstered in Fox, 40 per metre, selection of cushions in Dark Rye and Fox, 55 each, all available from Neptune.com.

THE FB POCKET ORCHESTRA

BLUES, Ragtime, Hot Jazz, Songs and Dances from long ago.

The FB Pocket orchestra was formed in 2012 by Paul Stevenson, Jenny Russell and Ollie Corbin.

Their self-imposed brief was simply to explore the popular music repertoire of the early 20th century. The primary aim was to investigate how they might make a musical response that would fit into the contemporary milieu.

So, whilst they make no claim to authentic re-creation, they make music that they hope has significant musical relevance to a present-day audience and celebrates some of the key attributes of the past.

Working backwards from the 1930s, the FB Pocket Orchestra explores repertoire that formed the embryo of what is now known as popular music.

The FBPO became an 'official' project in the spring of 2012 and released its first album in October. The aims of the orchestra are to present a contemporary slant on popular acoustic music from the late 19th and early 20th Centuries.

They are coming to the Tithe Barn at Manor Yard in Symondsbury on Friday 20th November. Tickets are £12 in advance or £15 on the door. Call: 01308 424116 to book.

Exciting New Autumn/Winter Season at Bridport Arts Centre

BRIDPORT Arts Centre's October to January season is now underway, and it sees an exciting new programme of live performances, take-part activities and exhibitions to keep you entertained over the colder months.

Kicking off the live programme in October is the dance performance Taste (Friday, October 9th), it's inspired by the art of Grayson Perry and our national obsessions with social class and the cultural extremities of food fashion and style. Modu N'Diaye Cissokho and The Golden Kora Band (Saturday, October 10th) will bring an international music with their cutting edge Senegalese sound featuring a range of instruments including the 22-string kora.

The Allsop Gallery will be transformed for drawing workshops from children's illustrators for The Big Draw from Wednesday, October 7th until Friday, October 16th.

The Picture of Dorian Gray
The Bridport Open Book will be back from Tuesday 13th – Sunday, October 18th for a celebration of reading and writing. You can expect a range of events from a live performance of The Picture of Dorian Gray (Wednesday, October 14th), An

Cscape's Taste

Evening With The Bridport Prize Judges

(Friday, October 16th) and a workshop focused on Writing for Publication (Thursday, October 15th).

For those who like of comedy, audiences can enjoy the return of the popular monthly Comedy Café with Tom Glover, Jenny Éclair's latest show How To Be A Middle Aged Woman Without Going Insane (Wednesday 21 October), BBC Radio 4's Fred Macaulay performing Twenty Fifteen (Friday, October 30th) and Britain's leading musical satirist, Mitch Benn with Don't Believe a Word (Friday 4 December).

There'll be plenty of music with Calan, a vibrant five-piece folk band performing on November 7th and Jamie Smith's Mabon returning with tracks from their new album 'The Space Inbetween' (Tuesday, November 10th). There'll be a night of Electroswing from Swingrowers, a quintet from Palermo on Saturday, November 14th.

If you're a fan of theatre Psycedelight have created a moving play about infertility and adoption. The Empty Frame is based on the writer's professional experience in an infertility clinic (Friday, November 20th).

As the days edge closer to Christmas, the Arts Centre has the festive season wrapped up with a screening of The Nutcracker from the Royal Opera House (Wednesday, December 16th), live family theatre from CBBC's Christian Lee who will bring Happy and Elsie (Sunday, December 20th) and Bridport Young Performer's Scholarship's 5th Annual Christmas Show (Monday, December 21st).

January highlights include local performer Tessa Bide returning with the family show The Melody Makers (Saturday, January 2nd) and The Upbeat Beatles, four supremely talented guys who will take you on a journey that is the story of the Beatles through their songs.

The gallery spaces will be bustling with a varied range of exhibitions, including the Marshwood Vale Arts Awards, an exhibition that reviews Elvis Presley impersonators across the globe including a 14-year-old Roma Gypsy and a 40 year old Italian civil servant.

AsOne Theatre's 'tinderbox' tour comes to West Dorset

AWARD-WINNING AsOne Theatre has created a captivating new show for all the family - 'tinderbox' - the most recent offering from its dynamic Ascend ensemble. Touring throughout this autumn the play is a witty re-working of Hans Christian Andersen's original tale, devised to delight story-lovers of all ages - connecting both the young and young at heart.

The play - which premieres October 16th at Dorchester's Corn Exchange - is directed by its writer and puppet maker, Jacqueline Avery, an experienced theatre practitioner who lives in Weymouth. 'tinderbox' takes us on a thrilling journey with a war-torn soldier meeting an obstinate princess, a strange wizened woman aided by three unearthly dogs, and a magic tinderbox. Along the way we encounter wave tossed seas, venture deep under a tree, battle whirling snow - to break locks and free true love. An audio visual treat with a blend of powerful physical storytelling, puppetry and shadow play interwoven by evocative songs and music from talented, ex-Thomas Hardye school student, Joe Butcher who since graduating from Bath Spa University is making his name as a singer songwriter; and the popular, quirky animation of Dorset's Thomas Hughes, a multi-instrumentalist musician and film maker, he is well known for his band Triops. The lighting is designed by the very popular James Marshall of Basement Hire, Wimborne.

AsOne Theatre Company's Artistic Director Jane McKell said: "We wanted to bring a contemporary, magical piece of theatre to the stage that unites the extended family, and has them leaving the theatre talking about what has just engaged and excited them. 'tinderbox' is a thrilling story with strong, colourful yet vulnerable characters, and themes of adventure, love, loss, and lessons learned. The multi-media way we tell it; the combination of puppets, live music, animated image and talented physical performance adds up to magic for all the family. Our 'tinderbox' neither patronises nor over-intellectualises; we laugh and cry - out with the characters in a rollicking adventure."

Touring six counties from October to December 'tinderbox' will premier at the Corn Exchange in Dorchester on Friday, October 16th, and will be followed by a charity performance at Weymouth Pavilion Theatre on Friday, November 13th in aid of West Dorset, Home Start - 'support and friendship for families' www.homestartwestdorset.co.uk/page/home

Where else will you get to see a miniature Mexican, a Russian stage star, a German assassin, London's biggest (not fattest) gangster, and a host of other characters chase a chocolate treat this autumn?

The Falcon's Malteser is an hilarious family film noir pastiche following the adventures of the hopelessly inept private detective Tim Diamond and his sharp witted brother Nick, this show sees the Diamond Brothers Detective agency on a thrilling case to discover just what is so important about those titular Maltesers!

Anthony Horowitz himself says "(The script) stays very true to the fun and the adventure of the story, presenting the myriad characters with just four young actors and a huge amount of inventiveness. In fact, it's an object lesson in the power of the theatre."

The production was one of the hits of the fringe, playing to over 4,500 people with multiple sell-out houses in the prestigious Pleasance Forth venue and achieving great critical acclaim. The fast-paced performance won critics and audiences alike over with its hugely inventive set, creative direction, lightning fast costume changes, painful pratfalls and more 'bad jokes' than you can shake a stick at.

The performance of Falcon's Malteser comes to the Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis on Sunday, October 11th at 6pm. Tickets are £11/£9. A Theatre Friends discount is available. For more details or to book call 01297 442138 or visit www.marinetheatre.com.

Dub Pistols go Electric

FROM THEIR early singles for Concrete Records to their genre defying Six Million Ways To Live LP, the Dub Pistols have always added a much needed Rock and Roll swagger to the UK's dance scene. Chewing up hip-hop, dub, techno, ska & punk and spitting them out in a renegade futuristic skank they have consistently defied genres and exceeded the highest of expectations, and the group come to Bridport's Electric Palace in November.

Their genre-mashing abilities have led to remix work for the likes of Moby, Crystal Method, Limp Bizkit, Bono, Korn and Ian Brown, and seen them work with hiphop legend Busta Rhymes on One, a track for Blade 2 and Molotov, the Y Tu Mama Tam bien soundtrack.

In recent years the band has mutated from a studio-based duo into a fully fledged live act often featuring the talents of guest vocalists Rodney P, Specials front man Terry Hall, rap wunderkid TK, Sugardaddy horn-blower Tim Hutton and scratch maestro DJ Stix. This years Glastonbury saw Neville Staple from The Specials join the Pistols live on stage for the encore Gangsters.

The Dub Pistols play live at the Electric Palace, Bridport on Saturday, November 21st. Doors open 7pm, with music from 8pm.

Tickets are £12.60 in advance or £15 on the door. Advance tickets from the Electric Palace Box Office (Tues-Sat 10am-4pm), Bridport TIC 01308424901, or online (£13.20) from www.seetickets.com

The Dorchester Piano Trio

Dorchester Piano Trio

THE Dorchester Piano Trio will be playing a lunchtime concert at Dorset County Museum on Thursday, October 8th at 1pm.

With a change of line-up, the Trio will be made up of Sally Flann on cello, Pasha Willis on viola and Peter Oakes on piano.

The concert will feature music by Beethoven and Brahms, and will last approximately one hour.

Everyone is welcome at the concert, and, to cover costs, a small donation of £3 is requested. The concert will take place in the Museum's Victorian Gallery.

Modern day Sherlock will leave Dorchester speechless this Friday

LOOK AT your hands, your nails, and the heels of your shoes. What do you see? Nothing?

Imagine someone who could look at those details and see everything. Everything. Only, you don't have to imagine. Because this is precisely what Colin Cloud does.

He'll know what you've had for lunch, where you've been that day, what you do for a living, the car you drive, even your PIN code. He'll read you like a book. He's already sure you're quite the page-turner.

Colin Cloud is a forensic scientist who mixes mind magic and brain science with his love of Arthur Conan Doyle's works, resulting in him being described as the closest thing around to the real life Sherlock Holmes. His sell out show has received unbeatable acclaim and will be heading to Dorchester Arts at the Corn Exchange on Friday, October 9th.

For more information or to book tickets call Dorchester Arts box office on 01305 266926 or visit www.dorchesterarts.org.uk.

Friends of William Barnes Society present Stronghold of Happiness

IN 2015, to commemorate the 70th anniversary of the ending of WW1, Dorset couple, Peter and Ella Samways, have answered an advert placed by the local drama college, for couples who were married in WW11 to write in with their story. They are excited when their story is chosen for dramatization, and are invited to watch a rehearsal of the play and to answer questions posed by the actors about the war and local history. Watching their story unfold, with its shattering wartime events, turns out to be more dramatic and cathartic than the couple initially realised.

Stronghold of Happiness is fiction based on fact, and includes the true story of the RAF's 151 wing's unique mission to Russia, where the latter were the only members of His Majesty's Forces to serve alongside the Russians as allies, and were on the first convoy to leave the United Kingdom.

Intrinsic to the story is Peter's father, Archie, who, like other Dorset characters, copes with the dark side of life through humour and wisdom, and makes innocent observations about life at that time, little realising he is standing on the cusp of a vanishing world.

1940s dress optional!

Tickets cost £7 each to include a complimentary glass of wine or juice, and nibbles. Tickets are available from Dorset County Museum Shop or by telephone on 01305 756827. All proceeds will go to the refurbishment of the William Barnes Gallery at the Dorset County Museum.

The dramatised play reading by Devina Symes takes place at Dorset County Museum in Dorchester at 7.30pm on Saturday, October 17th. Doors open 7pm for 7.30pm.

The iconic Peugeot GTi is returning to the medium car segment

▲ 308 GTi by PEUGEOT SPORT

Remember, remember the fifth of November... because the iconic PEUGEOT GTi badge is returning to the medium car segment for the first time since the 1990s, and all is set for a thrilling performance. One of the most eagerly-anticipated new model launches of 2015, the 308 GTi by PEUGEOT SPORT is a high-end performance 'hot hatch' designed with the sophisticated and enthusiastic driver in mind. Launched as a high-performance model for the 308 range – itself winner of the prestigious 2014 European Car of the Year – the 308 GTi has been extensively developed by PEUGEOT SPORT – the Brand's in-house team of motor sport engineers that boasts a wealth of expertise and success in the performance road car and international competition fields. The 308 GTi is the fourth road car project in three years following the critically acclaimed RCZ R, 208 GTi 30th and 208 GTi by PEUGEOT SPORT. The letters GTi only ever feature on PEUGEOT products with the highest performance. An acronym of Grand Tourer Injection, it's a badge which has become shorthand for the hot hatch segment – a sector in which PEUGEOT has more than played its part. Products such as the 205 GTi and 309 GTi have acquired near-classic status in the decades since launch, and remain hugely popular with owners who appreciate their exceptional dynamic performance. The 308 GTi continues in the same vein.

Due to the dedication of the PEUGEOT SPORT team, the GTi offers customers a striking new interpretation of the 308's sleek exterior design, enhanced sports-oriented interior detailing and an unparalleled driving experience with strong desirability and following.

Powered by the most-powerful engine of its size, the state-of-the-art 1.6-litre THP petrol engine with Stop&Start (S&S) technology is available in two power outputs – 250hp and 270hp – with both providing impressive performance; limited to 155mph. Even the environmental credentials are class-leading, with CO₂ emissions at just 139g/km, while official Combined Cycle fuel economy is 47.0mpg.

With both models weighing in at just 1205kg this enables the 308 GTi 250 to sprint to 62mph in just 6.2 seconds, with a power-to-weight ratio of just 4.82kg/hp. The 308 GTi 270 sets a new segment record for power-to-weight – at just 4.46kg/hp – and reaches 62mph in a mere 6.0 seconds flat.

Key to the appeal of the 270 GTi is its Torsen® limited-slip differential, fitted as standard. Designed to improve cornering by channeling the torque to the wheel with the greatest traction, it also makes it possible to drive faster around corners and enhance grip and handling.

The 270 GTi is also equipped with 2.3kg lighter 19" 'Carbone' lightweight alloy wheels shod with the latest Michelin Pilot Super Sport tyres. The design showcases the highly-capable 380mm ventilated front brake discs with solid red four-piston PEUGEOT SPORT signature calipers.

The 308 GTi boasts purposeful new styling, sitting 11mm lower to the ground than its siblings. Aggressive new front and rear design elements have been added, with six distinctive exterior colours available – new Ultimate Red, Pearl White, Magnetic Blue, Nera Black, Cumulus Grey and Hurricane Grey. For the most eye-catching look, a 'Coupe Franche' two-tone design is exclusive to the 308 GTi 270, contrasting Ultimate Red with Nera Black.

The interior has been carefully specified to complement the 308 GTi's exterior, subtly emphasising its sporting credentials. The door sill carries the PEUGEOT SPORT and GTi signature, while the foot pedals, foot rest and gear knob are finished in aluminium. Red stitching features on the upholstery, door panels, gear lever and premium floor mats. The GTi 270 features PEUGEOT SPORT race-inspired seats, upholstered in leather effect and Alcantara, which provide enhanced lateral support. The compact steering wheel – an integral part of the 308's acclaimed PEUGEOT i-Cockpit cabin design – provides natural grip and precise direction. It features full-grain leather with a GTi logo at the base and a red centring mark at the top. The head-up display instrument panel read-outs has a chequered backdrop, and a GTi greets the driver on start-up.

Flexible offers make Dacia the smart choice this Autumn

A RANGE of attractive finance offers is available across the Dacia line-up this autumn – making the UK's number one best value car brand even more affordable. The enticing deals are available on all models (except Access versions) and cater for all tastes and budgets.

Offering complete flexibility, the deals, available on both Dimensions PCP and Hire Purchase, are designed with the buyer in mind, making the range unbelievably affordable to own and run. What's more, buyers can now benefit from complete peace-of-mind for five years thanks to the no-nonsense brand's free five year/60,000 mile warranty when purchasing an eligible model on Dimensions PCP or Hire Purchase packages. Dacia was also ranked number one brand for value for money in 2015 Auto Express Driver Power survey and rated first for overall brand satisfaction in Which? Car Guide 2015/16.

Cost-conscious buyers looking for a tough, all-terrain vehicle for the winter need look no further than the multiple-award-winning Dacia Duster. Priced from £11,995 RRP in Ambiance trim, customers will receive a £750 deposit contribution towards both Dimensions PCP and Hire Purchase packages.

Another smart choice in the Dacia range – the compact but practical Sandero is still the UK's most affordable car. Demonstrating Dacia's no-nonsense approach to motoring, customers will be able to drive away in the supermini from £89 per month with a customer deposit of £856 and a manufacturer deposit contribution of £500.

Customers in the market for the Sandero's compact crossover sibling, the Sandero Stepway, will also receive a £500 manufacturer deposit contribution towards the £8,395 recommended retail price when purchasing on either the Dimensions PCP package or Hire Purchase scheme.

Small on price but big on space, the Logan MCV is the UK's lowest priced estate and is available from £99 per month with a customer deposit of £1,272 and a £500 manufacturer deposit contribution on the Dimensions PCP scheme.

As ever, Dacia's supremely flexible and easy-to-understand finance options allow buyers to tailor a payment solution that's right for them. Buyers are able to specify a deposit of between zero and 90 per cent and payments over anywhere from 12 to 60 months on Hire Purchase finance solutions.

All eligible models will automatically come with a free 5-year/60,000 mile warranty when purchased on Dimensions PCP or Hire Purchase, but buyers can opt for the added protection and value of a 7-year/100,000 mile warranty for a one-off fee of just £395 RRP – a saving of £455 over the usual price.

Ford ups 'Marmalade' insurance contribution for young drivers to make new car motoring more affordable

FORD recently joined forces with insurance provider 'Marmalade' to help reduce the cost of motoring for young drivers and to make the dream of owning a new Ford Fiesta or Ford Ka a reality. Young drivers, between 18–24, can now take advantage of an enhanced Ford contribution of up to £2,240 towards insurance on selected Fiesta models, including the striking 140PS Zetec S Red and Black Editions, when purchased with Ford Options*.

The scheme brings together the popular Ford Options two-year personal contract purchase plan with a discreet telematics 'black box' fitted free of charge by Marmalade. Ford will contribute up to £2,240 towards the cost of insuring a new Ford Fiesta, or up to £1,110 towards insuring a Ford Ka, when financed with Ford Options*.

Based on Marmalade's quote data, the increased Ford contribution now means that all insurance cost are covered for at least 55 per cent of 18–24 year olds who finance a new Fiesta Style three-door 1.25-litre 60PS model on Ford Options.

This programme is also intended to help young drivers gather experience and skills more safely during a period when research shows there is a greater risk of them having an accident. The black box monitors speed, acceleration, braking and cornering force and builds a profile of driver behaviour. If the driving standard falls below an acceptable level, the driver is offered helpful advice and tips to improve. Premium increases are introduced in steps should driving behaviour not improve over time – 90 per cent of Marmalade drivers never experience this.

Drivers (and parents) have on-line access to the driving data, which helps provide a forum for discussion, support and improvement. Today, around one in five young drivers has an accident within the first six months on the road. However, just one in 17 drivers using the Marmalade scheme has an accident in the same period . Furthermore, the risk to young drivers is further reduced thanks to the latest active and passive safety systems fitted as standard to the latest Fiesta and Ka models.

As standard, Fiesta is also fitted with Ford MyKey, a new technology that allows parents to limit top speed, encourage seatbelt use and control the volume of the integrated sound system.

The goal of improving driver safety is fully in line with Ford's national free driver education programme for young people – Driving Skills for Life (DSFL), which takes place this year at London's Excel Exhibition Centre from 20–22nd of November.

For further details about the Ford DSFL programme in the U.K. and to register for a free place on the programme go to: www.forddsfl.co.uk

Take care on country roads while deer are on the move, warns GEM

ROAD SAFETY organisation GEM Motoring Assist is urging drivers to take extra care in areas where deer are common. The rutting (breeding) season means deer are more mobile than usual, bringing them onto roads and increasing the risk of collisions.

GEM chief executive David Williams says: "We encourage drivers to be extra observant, and to be ready to take appropriate avoiding action if they come across a deer on the road ahead.

"Periods of highest deer activity tend to occur at dawn and dusk, coinciding with the morning and evening rush hour, increasing collision risks in areas where deer are common."

Experts believe the UK deer population numbers more than two million, and research from the RSPCA shows around 75,000 deer are involved in vehicle collisions each year, with 10,000 killed instantly.

The human death toll from deer collisions ranges between 10 and 20 annually, and industry estimates put the cost of damage to vehicles alone to be at least £17 million.

GEM offers five simple tips for drivers to reduce risk from deer collisions:

Take note of deer warning signs. These are placed in locations where wild animal crossings are likely, so keep your speed down and be ready to encounter a deer at very short notice.

Be particularly watchful at dawn and dusk, when deer are most active.

If you spot one animal, it's likely there may be others following, so don't speed up and assume the danger has passed.

Remember the importance of always being able to stop – on your side of the road – in the distance you can see to be clear ahead. But also be ready to react if a deer leaps out right in front of you.

Ideally we want to avoid any sort of collision, but swerving to avoid a deer could prove a very dangerous action if it leads to a collision with another vehicle.

Magpies and Terras round-up

Centurions overrun by Terras

Cirencester Town 0 Weymouth 3

Evo-Stik Premier- att; 156

WEYMOUTH clicked into form with this demolition of early leaders Cirencester Town who drop to seventh after this defeat.

Admittedly the hosts were missing several players through injury, but the Terras have found goals hard to come by this season, and they could have had more.

They created several chances in the first half before they finally found the net. George Rigg forced an excellent save from keeper Glyn Garner before captain Stewart Yetton struck the inside of a post.

Adam Kelly then forced Garner into another superb save before Chris McPhee headed just wide. Finally their pressure told although the first goal on 38 minutes was rather fortunate; Ben Thompson's shot striking a defender and looping over Garner.

Playing down the slope the host's started the second half in positive mood and Charlie Griffith's first time volley was just wide of the upright. If the Terras first goal was fortunate, there was no doubting the second. A defensive header from a cross dropped to Jake Wannell who hit a thumping volley across goal into the far corner.

Cirencester almost replied instantly, but manager Jason Matthews was off his line quickly to smother the ball at Zack Kotwica's feet.

Chris Shepherd, finally recovered from injury, made an instant impact when he replaced Thomson by scoring within three minutes.

A great run from Calvin Brooks saw him release the ball square to Weymouth's top player who buried a half volley into the corner of the net.

Yetton almost made it four late on, but his chip over Garner came back off the crossbar.

Turgid Magpies find Martyrs hard work

Dorchester Town 1 Merthyr Town 1

Evo-Stik Premier – att; 307

DEPLETED Dorchester Town had to settle for a point against a dogged Merthyr outfit who were reduced to ten men for the last 25 minutes.

Whilst the Magpies could claim they were without five regulars, leaving a very inexperienced bench, they never really got going throughout the game, and even with the man advantage never really put the Martyrs under any real pressure.

Tony Lee had the first chance for Dorchester after 12 minutes when Lewis Morgan nodded the ball back in his path, but the striker miskicked his first effort before tamely shooting at keeper Tom Bradley when given a second chance.

Merthyr's first effort came following a run by Adam Davies who laid the ball off to Guillen Bauza, but his measured 20-yard shot was comfortably held high to the right by Shane Murphy.

Morgan might have done better on the half hour when Bradley mis-punched Mark Jermyn's long ball into the box, but he half-volleyed his first time effort wide of an almost open goal.

Neil Martin was perhaps lucky to only receive a yellow card on 39 minutes for a wild challenge on Davis, who had been dishing out niggly off the ball antics beforehand.

Then both sides went close just before the break.

Bradley did well to beat away Lee's stooping near post header from Oakley Hanger's cross, before Murphy was called into similar action, stretching wide to his left to get down and turn Ryan Prosser's goalbound looping header aside.

Morgan had to be substituted at the break because of double vision, and was replaced by Ryan Ross making his debut. He played up front with Lee replacing Jermyn in the centre of defence with the manager moving into midfield.

The Martyrs opened the scoring on 52 minutes when Matt Oldring found Jon Brown on the right side of the penalty area, and although the captain for the night blocked Elliot Scotcher's drive, the ball rebounded to Bauza who drilled a volley into the corner of the net from the edge of the box.

Prosser almost doubled the lead three minutes later when his volley from Jarrad Wright's cross was deflected wide by Lee.

Things were looking bleak for the Magpies as they failed to have any punch up front.

But just on the hour they were given a lifeline when they were awarded a penalty when Nick Crittenden's cross struck Ashley Evans's hand as he went sliding in. Charlie Davis despatched the spot kick with aplomb.

Merthyr were reduced to ten on 64 minutes when referee Ben Cobb adjudged Prosser to have deliberately elbowed Lee in the face as they jumped for the ball.

But it made little difference to Dorchester's tempo and hunger which appeared lacking all night, and the visitors could have won the game in the dying seconds when Scotcher's volley swerved just wide of the top corner.

A disappointed assistant manager Crittenden said afterwards: "We didn't really get out of first gear.

"With the way the club is, we are disappointed to get a point at home, whereas last season everyone would have taken a point.

"If we want to achieve something this year, then these are the games we want to be winning.

You look at the games against Dunstable and Frome as well, and that's six points lost."

The former Glover favourite said that the club needs to look at its discipline on the field, particularly in light of the current situation.

We can't afford, with the small squad we have got, to lose people to suspensions. We had Nathan Walker and Jonah Ayunga suspended for this game, and who knows what might have been had they been available."

Terras progress

Dorset Senior Trophy

Alderholt 1

Weymouth Res 3

WEYMOUTH took an early lead through a fifth minute Ashley ALEY free kick from outside the area.

On 25 minutes some good passing saw James BERGIN clear and his well taken goal put the visitors further ahead.

In a feisty second half Alderholt pulled a goal back from the penalty spot to set up a tense last 15 minutes.

But a minute from time Conor JEVON finally slotted home the third goal to make the game safe and give the Terras a deserved victory on the 125th year anniversary of their club's founding.

Indiscipline costs Puddletown

Bridport RFC 25 Puddletown RFC 23

THE visitors started the brighter of the two sides and took the lead early on with a converted Tom Yeatman penalty. (0-3) Bridport were gifted a kickable penalty when the Puddletown defence failed to retreat 10m after the ref had awarded a penalty. (3-3)

Good Puddletown pressure saw Bridport concede a 5m scrum, the visitors span the ball across the pitch and back again, with Harry Foot driving over to score a try. Converted by Tom Yeatman. (3-10). The away side continued to be the more threatening and another good passage of play, resulted in another converted Tom Yeatman penalty. (3-13)

As the first half came to a close, the home side started to put phases together, once again Puddletown were penalised at the breakdown, the quick-thinking Bridport scrum half took a quick tap penalty.

Poor awareness and sloppy tackling gave Bridport a converted try just before the break. (10-13). Continued Puddletown indiscretions at the breakdown saw Harry Foot yellow carded.

The second half started as the first had finished with Bridport applying pressure and Puddletown infringing at the scrum and at the breakdown. The referee awarded Bridport a free kick for early pushing at the scrum, Puddletown needlessly threw the ball away preventing the quick tap.

The free kick was changed to a full penalty 10m nearer the posts and was duly converted. (13-13). Puddletown replied with another Tom Yeatman penalty after Bridport put hands in the ruck. (13-16)

Bridport continued to apply pressure and a poor clearance resulted in a line-out on the Puddletown 5m line. The visitors won the ball, but somehow it ended up on the floor and Bridport flopped over to score a converted try. (20-16) Puddletown fought back with No.8 Dan Udell driving forward from a midfield scrum, he slipped the ball to captain Jez Beale who drove over to score, again converted by Tom Yeatman. (20-23)

Bridport came back and pushed hard into the Puddletown 22m, once again the visitors got on the wrong side of the referee with repeated transgressions and 2nd row James Green was given 10 minutes in the bin.

With Puddletown down to 14, the home pressure mounted, from a solid five metre scrum the Bridport scrum-half picked up at the base and drove over to score an unconverted try. (25-23).

Rees romps home

By Richard Jackman

FOR no obvious reason the September stableford proved a relatively low scoring affair except for a brilliant 39 points by Division One winner Brian Rees who romped home, four clear of Simon Harris and David Lyon who finished in that order on countback.

Division Two was won by the ever-improving Nic Snape with 35 points and Les Bounds just taking second place from Mark Lewis, both 33 points, on countback.

The course was packed full on Monday morning for a shotgun start in the Max Thorner Trophy, a 4 ball better ball competition which was won by the form man David Hickman and George Yorke with 47 points.

The midweek stableford saw Stuart Wight just pip the weekend winner, Brian Rees, both scoring an impressive 41 points to both finish five points clear of John Toates in third place.

In a closely contested Ladies' October medal, Division One was won on countback by Jean Jolley, nett 73, from Melissa McMahon with Anne Humphreys 3rd with a 74. In Division Two Kate Helm's nett 72 was the lowest score of the day and won it, with Jean Falconer 2nd on 75 and Corinne Jones 3rd with 77.

Lyme Regis Sailing

'PITT'S PINT' Memorial Race was held on Suntday in a good force 3 to 4 wind which shifted 50 degrees to the southeast, and a noticeable swell.

Pitt's Pint was raced for the memorial trophy to past commodore Mike Pitt, a very popular dinghy and cruiser sailor and stalwart of the club.

A good turnout of 18 boats, including cruisers, competed. There were only three seconds between the leaders after an hour of exciting, close-fought racing, and 23 seconds between second and third.

Double-handers took the first six places with three minutes separating them on handicap.

Race officer Tony Fastnedge had to change the course for the second race with the wind on 150 degrees, and then again for the third as it swung back to 125 degrees.

On duty in the safety boat were Jeremy and Sharon Wallace who assisted with moving marks.

Joan Pitt was on hand to watch the race and present the trophy to the winners, Martin & Neil Moore, who had to leave the club before results were available but will receive it at the club's annual prize giving at the Golf Club in November.

Results Pitt's Pint Memorial Trophy: 1st Martin & Neil Moore (Scorpion) Corrected time 0.52.31, 2nd Jon Turner & Richard Parsloe (Merlin) 0.52.34, 3rd Allan & Chris Tyler (Fireball) 0.52.57.

Bridport through to semi-finals

Bridport 25 Puddletown 23

Dorset & Wilts 1st XV Plate Competition

AFTER last week's mauling at the hands of Yeovil, Bridport needed to respond positively, and this they did with a spirited display which took the game away from Puddletown in the dying minutes.

A penalty apiece marked the early exchanges, with Mike Walton the successful kicker for the home side.

The visitors, with the good support play that characterised their whole performance, conjured up a try which was converted to take the score to 3-10.

Bridport were penalised at the breakdown to gift Puddletown another three points. 3-13.

Puddletown, however, were easily as guilty as the hosts in the penalty department and were eventually made to pay just before half-time.

Dave Cutting tapped and stormed off down-field with a stirring run, smartly off-loading to Rich Pearce who ran in the try. Mike Walton converted and Bridport were back in the game at 10-13.

Daragh McCoughlin, influential as ever in Bridport's scrummaging was forced to leave the field with a shoulder injury.

The second half began with yet another penalty, this time to the hosts. Kicker Mike Walton's job was made easier by 10 metres as Puddletown argued the toss. 13-13.

Despite losing a player to a yellow card Puddletown earned the next penalty with a period of sustained pressure, a straightforward kick regaining them the lead. 13-16.

Bridport's backs had not enjoyed much influence thus far, but a neat kick through to the five-metre line from fly-half Richard Middleton gave the home side a platform from which to attack.

Puddletown were driven back from their own line-out and lost the ball to Joe Mace-Mckenney who touched down. Mike Walton added the conversion and Bridport took the lead for the first time. 20-16

It was short-lived as the visitors responded with a converted try. 20-23.

Stung into action, Bridport fought hard to regain the lead as the clock ticked down. Stuck on their five-metre line Puddletown fought equally hard to stay ahead, holding up Bret Chant as he crossed the line. From the resulting scrum however, Dave Cutting darted through the defence to resolve the issue. The kick was missed, but 25-23 was enough for a morale boosting victory. Bridport will meet Weymouth in the Semi-Final.

Bridport Under 10s

SUNDAY'S first match of the season was a three cornered affair between the hosts, Bridport, Weymouth and Sidmouth.

In fact no less than nine short games were played allowing all the players time on the pitch.

Weymouth and Sidmouth were very evenly matched with Bridport not far behind.

There is a lot to learn this season as rucking and mauling come into the game, but once Bridport had overcome a slightly tentative start they enjoyed two wins against Weymouth, three tries to one and two tries to one. Try scorers were Charles Edwards, Barney Johnson, Abi Alner and Bert Jovanic. Player of the Day was Charlie Brake.

Legg's long wait is over as Firs triumph

FIRS, despite losing their last match 16-4 against the Ebones, won the Morning League, and it was a special moment for Chris Legg who picked up her first trophy after 20 years of competition.

Joining in the celebrations were team mates, husband Brian, Rose and Chris Everest & Pat Anderson.

They just pipped Cedars team of: Sheila Burt, Ruth Harris, Peter Hawket and Lyn & Mike Craddock on shot difference.

Meanwhile, Penny and Robin Pither, Paul

Hallett, Mike Parsons & Mary Hansford's Foxhounds have won their season long battle with Maureen and Keith Hicks, Lyn Craddock, Ray Gill & David Drake's Jack Russells to win the Evening League.

Geoff Hansen won the Summer Rookies Singles with a 21-6 win over Gerry Moss.

Lyn Craddock completed an unfortunate treble of finishing runner-up when with Annie Legg they were beaten by holders Margaret Pestelle & Martin Grier who retained their Summer Pairs title with a 23-18 win.

Bridport who dominated the opening half hour and created a number of chances without capitalising, found themselves behind on 34 minutes when Ollie Dyke won the ball and was allowed to move forward and try his luck.

Unfortunately Stordy thought his effort was going wide and left it only to watch the ball creep inside the post.

Although playing some good football the Bees went in at half-time a goal down, requiring Annett's impress on his side need to test the home keeper Dickinson, and straight from the restart they did exactly that.

They eventually got their reward on 68 minutes when Buckler was on hand to tuck the ball home after Hill's header from Tristan Gale's corner had come back off the crossbar.

Then with nine minutes left they scored the decisive goal. Josh Butler drove forward from midfield before firing in a crisp shot which Dickinson could only parry, and Gale was in quickly to nod the ball over him for the winner.

Although Blandford pressed the Bees defence in the last ten minutes as they looked for an equaliser, but they held strong, and now will be looking to gain revenge for the heavy defeat they suffered against the Rec in August.

Cup win for Lyme

LYME REGIS under 10s suffered two close defeats in the league on Saturday, so going into the Dorset Cup match against Bridport on Sunday confidence was low.

Lyme took the lead after 10 minutes through Alex Champion. In the second half Seasiders keeper Fred Morel was made to work, pulling off several spectacular saves from close range.

But Lyme didn't waiver with defenders Taylor Pritchard and Bradley Lewis were in fine form.

A quick breakaway caught Bridport's defense on the hop and Joe Stewart fired home the second the clinch the win and a second round tie against Fleetwood on November 1st at Anning Road.

Football extra: Bees Ressies impress

Blandford Utd 1 Bridport Reserves 2
BRIDPORT manager Shaun Annett's doesn't feel the scoreline reflected his side's performance as they came from behind to earn themselves a home tie against Hamworthy Recreation in the second round of the Dorset Senior Cup.

"The score line suggests it was a close game, but that doesn't reflect our performance which again was very pleasing, and had we made better decisions and taken the chances created it could have been a lot more."

Annett's was faced with a goalkeeping problem before the game began with keepers Lee Cleal, whose was still hampered by a wrist injury received in training, and Josh Hadley who went down with a stomach bug, both crying off on the morning.

This meant Adam Stordy who has been playing consistently well in defence, but has played in goal in an emergency before, took over the gloves.

"Adam's a top lad and team player and did well overall."

The visitors were bolstered by the inclusion of Alan Hill and Sam Buckler who both needed game minutes, and they were outstanding in what was another good team performance.

West Dorset A 2

FOLLOWING their fine opening day win in the previous week, West Dorset A faced a tricky away match against Taunton Vale D at the weekend, made the more difficult by injuries and unavailability meaning they only travelled with ten players.

Taunton forced the early pace but the visitors gradually settled and began to force a few openings of their own. However, it was the home side who took the lead all too easily from a short corner after 14 minutes which was not properly cleared.

Despite Taunton's numerical advantage, West Dorset put some nice moves together and remained very solid defensively in the face of some overly aggressive tackling which often went unpunished. They deservedly drew level when the injured Mike Harvey, who was having to play due to lack of numbers, found John Kellas in the "D" who cleverly turned his marker to score.

Level at half time, the visitors were feeling confident of snatching something from the game. However as the second half wore on, the hosts had most of the play, but West Dorset were breaking up most of their attacks and catching them on the break and creating the better chances. They were made to pay for squandering these when Taunton made it 2-1 with a close range finish.

Despite the numerical disadvantage, West Dorset heads did not drop and they kept plugging away and with 10 minutes left equalised for the second time. Henry Middleton, pushing up from his left back position, was fouled outside the Taunton "D" and from the resultant free hit he exchanged passes with Kiwi Rich Wilson to bypass a couple of defenders before slotting the ball under the keeper.

Both sides had chances to take all three points after that, but some wayward finishing from West Dorset and an incredible full stretch last ditch tackle from defender Rob Clarke meant the honours were shared.

Skipper Middleton said: "Considering we were a player short and Taunton had a squad of fourteen, our team played incredibly well and everybody worked really hard to gain the point."

"We deserved something from the match and our determination made sure we got it. Bertie Newman in goal and Rob Clarke at the back were both brilliant."

Lyme Regis Gig Racing Club

WITH CHRIS BAILEY

Good showing at prestigious championships

IN-KEEPING with tradition, Newquay once again played host to the recent annual CPGA County Championships. An event which attracts the country's finest and most competitive Gig rowing Clubs.

Second only to the World Championships, in the waters off the Isles of Scilly, the Newquay event is one that is also taken very seriously, with all clubs fielding their very best crews.

This event is split into two weekends, with the Ladies taking to the water first and the Men's crews following two weeks later.

That two week interval saw a complete change in conditions. Part way through the first morning of the Ladies race order, the organisers took the unenviable decision to cancel proceedings for the remainder of the day as conditions proved to be too dangerous to continue.

This meant an early start on the Sunday to resume the racing. Thankfully, a much calmer sea ensued, allowing them to continue.

Because of the numbers of crews entered, all boats would leave the start line in heats of 6 crews, with the first two of each heat across the line being automatically promoted to the next round, with a capped number of fastest losers also making the grade.

This was how the successful teams would make their ascent to the top of the leader board in the forthcoming heats, taking them to the Quarter finals, the Semi-final and the Final. The latter, of which, is a two-lap race around the 1.8 mile course.

Lyme Regis Ladies entered two crews. Their A and B teams. The Lyme girls were drawn against some quality opposition with the A crew coming 5th from their heat of 6 crews and the B team also coming 5th. But these races were not about race position within their respective heats.

They were racing against the clock to post the best time they could against all of the other crews. So, the completed time in their heat could mean they beat other teams racing in their respective heats.

At the end of the weekends racing, out of 99 crews, the Lyme Ladies A team eventually recorded a very respectable 53rd overall position. More importantly an equally impressive 34th in their category.

The Ladies B crew were not far behind recording a creditable 57th overall, in so doing posting themselves a 16th position in their category. Caradon A were the outright winners of this event.

Two weeks later and the elite of the Men's crews would come together, basking in the September sunshine in readiness for their attempt to post as high a position as possible.

Proceedings were under way, following the same race format as the Ladies, two weeks previously.

Internal competition to take part in this event was such that Lyme entered a field of four crews. A, B, C & D.

The A crew enjoyed a fantastic start, coming second in their heat, awarding them automatic promotion to the second round. Lyme's B boat finished quick enough to be within the capped number of fastest losers to ensure they also made the grade.

The same protocol was adhered to for the second round which saw Lyme A just miss out on position, coming in 3rd but earned a place in the Quarter final on their posted time.

The following day would see the top teams emerging, as the competition intensified. Lyme A just missed out on a place in the Semi-Final. It was Isles of Scilly World Champions, Falmouth A who would go on to win the title.

Positions for the Lyme Men's squad read as follows:-

Men's A - 19th overall and 15th in their category -
Men's B - 39th overall and 10th in their category
Men's C - 51st overall and 3rd in their category

Lyme Men's D team are a newly formed crew making their debut at the Newquay event, with very little water training.

Coxed by Toby Newson the crew; David Clayton, Bruce Khan, Phil Hayward, Marcus Dixon, Roger Brine & Dan Dunford finished in 72nd overall with a number of A, B and C crews behind them on the finishing line.

Both Men's and Ladies teams are now entering into a winter training session, in preparation for the 2016 season.

Lee recaptures Manor Farm with win double

CORNISHMAN Mike Lee asserted himself on his return to the Manor Farm hillclimb course at Charmouth to take a brace of victories across the weekend and repel the challenges of Chard speedster Stuart Browne who took victories 12 months ago.

Lee at the wheel of his Suzuki powered OMS 2000M single-seater racing car took both the Eric Moxom Memorial Trophy and the Anniversary Trophy having claimed the Fastest Time of the Day in both events but was challenged all the way by sports racing car pilot Rod Thorne.

The Road-going Series Production Car class saw a close battle during the second day of the meeting between Robert Thomsen and Jonathan Langmead.

Tight finish
the limit the Lyme Regis driver took the top step of the podium in the first event but was defeated the following day by the fleet Darian T90 of Tim Porter.

The double Wiscombe Park champion would not admit defeat to Porter in a car which was designed solely for motorsports and gave his all right to the finish line.

The Road-going Series Production Car class saw a close battle during the second day of the meeting between Robert Thomsen and Jonathan Langmead.

Exminster golf professional Langmead, who had claimed the Saturday win in his Lotus Elan S3, saw Thomson from Honiton take the win with his Vauxhall Nova by less than one tenth of a second.

The 2015 season has seen close competition in the Road-going Specialist Production car category where cars can be equipped with a conventional car power plant or that from a motorcycle.

The main protagonists all drive Westfield sports cars but the interest has been how Mike Williams, who employs a two litre car engine, fairs against the Suzuki Megabusa machines of Adrian Lewis and Andrew Forsyth.

At Manor Farm the competition for Williams was even more foreboding with the addition to the entry list of Stewart Green and his Sylva Riot.

The season has seen Forsyth, new to both his car and the category, become the man to beat but that was not going to deter Green.

Both drivers used their 1300cc motors to the full with Green, from Frampton, keeping Forsyth honest and taking two second places by a mere eight hundredths of a second in the Saturday event and 18 hundredths 24 hours later.

With the elevation of Lee to overall honours in both meetings the battle for honours in the 1100cc to 1600cc racing car class was left to fellow OMS drivers Stuart Browne and Andy Short.

The latter, new to single-seaters, put his PR model out of reach of the SF2 mounted Browne but only by a quarter of one second in the first event.

The next day Browne exacted his revenge but was forced to work hard for it with the winning margin only one tenth of a second.

The smaller capacity racing car class (up to 1100cc) saw James Gibson claim double victories at the wheel of his OMS Hornet.

The Sidmouth driver, who also takes part in motorcycle hillclimbs has just graduated to the racing car classes having competed in the sport car divisions, took decisive victories.

Anniversary waltz as Terras go joint top

Weymouth 1 Bedworth United 0
 Evo-Stik Premier – att: 578

WEYMOUTH celebrated their 125th anniversary with victory against lowly Bedworth United, and the bonus of going top of the Evo-Stik League Southern Premier as Leamington drew and Chippenham Town lost, thanks to a Ben Thomson goal eleven minutes from time.

Following their excellent win at Cirencester midweek, the Terras were hoping to extend that form against a Bedworth side that had only won twice, scored just nine goals and conceded 25 in their 12 matches to date and were languishing third from bottom.

A badly under strength Greenbacks had the first chance but Alan Naughton fired wide after three minutes.

by Stuart Broom
 stuart@pemedia.co.uk

The next 20 minutes were fairly non-descript before captain Stewart Yetton turned and fired in a low shot that visiting keeper Denham Hinds saved well down to his left.

Daniel Creaney then set up Richard Wesley who fired wide, before helping in a move that ended with Naughton firing over left footed from 20 yards.

Yetton then missed the best chance of the half when Thomson hooked the ball into his path, but he fired over the top from 12 yards, before then trying his luck with a curling shot that clipped the outside of the post.

A more assertive Weymouth emerged after the break and after Dean Evans and Billy Lowes had both missed the target, Yetton could only direct his header from six-yards straight at Hinds.

The gloveman had to work much harder seconds later to claw Adam Kelly's attempted volley from looping over him.

The Terras' skipper then spurned another opportunity when he fired over again from sub Chris Shepherd's cut back.

Eventually Weymouth got the goal they deserved on 79 minutes.

Shepherd crossing to the far post where Yetton nodded the ball back across the six-yard box and Thomson stretched his left foot to hook a volley high into the roof of the net.

Bedworth almost snatched a late point from sub Harry Donovan-Walker's shot but Jake Wannell cleared it off the line.
